DAKIN'S PURE VOLATILE EUCALYPŢUS OIL,

DISTILLED FROM THE LEAVES OF SELECTED SPECIES OF EUCALYPTUS

TAUCALYPTUS OIL has long taken a foremost place as a "household re- ness. medy" in Australia. When applied externally it has a powerful stimulant and soothing action but does not blister the most sensitive skin, and no application known will so quickly subdue the pain of muscular rhoumatism. Taken internally in small doses, it acts as a powerful stimulant and antipasmodic whilst its secondary action induces sleep. The penetrating agreeable vapor of the Oil is sedative, and when inhaled relieves Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh and Sore Throat. It is also a most powerful antiseptic and germicide, being three times as effectual as Carbolic Acid in preventing development of Bacteria, its uses in this direction being very numerous. The active properties of the Oil depend | Fresh westerly breeze, with fine weather. upon a Terpene called Eucalyptol and we guarantee this Oil, prepared specially for us. to contain the largest obtainable percentage Island to Tung-ying; wind N.E. from Tung-

Eucalyptus Oil of commerce. It can be used with great benefit in all Threat and Lung Affections, and its sedative stimulant properties make it an invaluable application in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., whilst its powerful anticeptic and germicide action is well exhibited as a dressing in Wounds, Ulcers, Burns, Scalds, Sores, Ringworm, &c. Dakin's specially refined Oil is sold in 2 oz. and 4 oz. bottles at cts. 50 and $1.60. Full Directions for use enclosed with each CAUTION. Inferior samples of Eucalyptus Oil distilled from any kind of Eucalyptus leaf have | Had fine weather throughout from port to little or no medical action and should be port, with moderate and light sea, and sarefully avoided.

HONGKONG, TUESTAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1891 THE PRESENT CRISIS IN CHINA.

There is no doubt the eyes of the world are now directed towards China, and many questions are being asked, as to the cause and probable ending of the present state of Every abomination that is conceivable affairs. Is it an Anti-missionary Movement. To this question I do not hesitate to say no. I have travelled through a number of provinces in China, but have never found anywhere the common people anything but friendly, except when stirred up by false rumours, foreign complications, or the action of the idiotic literati. The Chinese have nothing to say against the doctrines of Christianity as such; it is only when Christianity is misrepresented and caricatured that the system is opposed. Such is my opinion, others may differ from me. That the missionary question has been introduced to serve a purpose is palpable to all. But that this theory explains the movement, no one I think will for a moment maintain. Upon such a hypothesis the determination to drive out all foreigners from Hupeh, Hunan, and Kiangsi is inexplicable. Merchant and missionary are threatened alike. There may be several reasons why the present movement is anti-foreign, and oppused to the foreign merchant, foreign missionary, and foreign official. Allow me to suggest one or two. It is within the range of possibility that many of the educated Chinese would like to fill the offices in the Imperial Customs now filled by Europeans. By many the Imperial Customs are regarded as belonging to, or farmed out by, foreign nations, and therefore these ignorant people are easily moved Orders from one person, over $10 allowed to demonstrations against foreigners, because they are regarded as their oppres sors. I should like to see a proclamation extensively circulated setting this matter before the Chinese in an unmistakable light. This section of the anti-foreign party, seeing important and lucrative positions occupied by foreigners in various departments, will naturally view the foreigner with considerable jealousy. Again other desirable positions in Naval and Military Schools, Arsenals, Colleges, telegraph department &c., will be regarded as belonging properly to those Chinese who have received a slight European Christianity has become a force in the Empire; a prudent and farseeing government would utilize this force, The institutions of the Government and country must change with the changing times or else the new wine of foreign commerce, science, and religion will burst the old bottles. If the ruling party, whether Manchu or Chinese, range itself on the side of bigotry and intolerance it is bound to perish. The world has moved on, and is centuries ahead of China who has failed to keep peace. INSPECTOR Hanson, of the Kowloon District, has received the following commendatory letter from the Colonial Secretary with reference to his conduct in the case of attempted bribery tried at last Criminal Sessions :---

Colonial Secretary's Office. 28th Sept., 1891.

Sir,—I have the honour by direction of the Officer Administering the Government to convey to you His Excellency's commendation of your conduct in securing the conviction and making an example of certain your duty in the suppression of gambling. I am to add that in reporting on this case which was tried at last Criminal Sessions. the Chief Justice, Sir James Russell, remarked that 'this case shows the temptations placed before police officers and the necessity of having men of character. THERE were two alternatives before China -foreign intervention or the use of Li Hung Chang's forces. They were, we believe, about equally distasteful to the authorities at Peking, the former as involving a confession of their helplessness and a great increase of foreign influence, and the latter as increasing the power of an already too powerful satrap. According to the Reuter's telegrams published to-day, China has chosen the latter alternative. Li Hung Chang's northern squadron, or the portion of it that is available for the work, is to be sent up the Yangteze to overawe the mutinous Hunanese. CAN MAIL CHINA ARMING. New York, August 28.-A private Peking cable dispatch received to-day via

London from a prominent official in the Chinese Government announces that a commission of leading officers of the Chinese army has been ordered to proceed at once to England and examine the Lee magazine rifle now in use by the British The Commission is directed to compare the Lee with the Austrian Manlicher arm and decide without delay which arm of the two is better adapted for the Chinese ormy. The entire Chinese army, the cable announces, is to be rearmed, and, owing to the present trouble in the empire, the consignment of arms must commence within three months and continue until at least 500,000 rifles have been delivered. The new English rifle is the Lee. 303 caliber. It is an American invention and was sold recently to the British War office. The Lee company has already sold to the Chinese Government 50,000 stand of arms of the Lee 43 caliber Spanish model. This is the same arm in use to some extent aboard the naval vessels and revenue cutters of the United States.
